

It encourages me throughout the day, keeps me focused on what is important in life. I believe it makes my community a better place to live. I think it introduces people who may not know Jesus as their Lord and Savior to Him or at least they are curious about what they are talking about on the radio and seek to find out more information from their local churches and pastors.